Dear Readers

February can feel like a quiet month. The excitement of Christmas has faded, the days are still short, and although clumps of snowdrops bring the promise of things to come, spring seems a long way off. Yet it is often in these quieter times that we notice gifts most clearly — not the sort wrapped in paper, but the gifts that arrive through one another.

In our rural communities, generosity rarely makes headlines. It shows itself in smaller, steadier ways: a neighbour keeping an eye on an empty house, someone giving a lift to the shops, a warm word exchanged at the gate on a cold morning. These acts may seem ordinary, but they are gifts all the same, and they sustain us more than we realise.

The Christian faith speaks often of gift. Life itself is understood as something received rather than earned. None of us chooses the land we are born into, the people who shape us, or the many kindnesses that quietly support us along the way. When we recognise this, generosity stops being a duty and becomes a response — a way of passing on what we ourselves have been given.

In February, the church marks Candlemas, a festival about light given and received. It is a reminder that even a small flame can make a difference when the days are dark. The same is true of generosity. It does not need to be dramatic or costly. A little time, a listening ear, a shared skill — these are often the most valuable gifts of all.

Rural life teaches us this well. We know how much we depend on one another, especially when weather turns harsh or times are difficult. Generosity here is practical, grounded, and often unspoken. It is woven into the rhythm of village life, from shared harvests to shared worries.

As we move through this month, perhaps we might pause to notice both the gifts we receive and the gifts we are able to offer. Both giving and receiving can evoke the emotion of gratitude, which has a way of opening our eyes to abundance, even when resources feel stretched. Generosity is an outworking of this and generosity, once started, has a habit of spreading.

Dear Readers

My prayer for February is that we continue to look out for one another, valuing the small acts of kindness that make our communities strong. In doing so, we reflect something deeply human — and deeply hopeful — about the way we are meant to live together.

With every blessing,

Rev'd Julia

From the Registers

The funeral of Eila Tucker took place on Thursday 4th December at St Peter & St Paul, Eastham.

The funeral of David Spilsbury took place at Wyre Forest Crematorium on Tuesday 16th December, followed by a Service of Thanksgiving at St Peter & St Paul, Eastham.

We send our condolences to their loved ones. May they rest in peace and rise in glory.

Christmas in Rochford

Christmas was well celebrated in Rochford. Thanks to everyone who helped with and supported all the Christmas events. The village Christmas lunch was a sell out and we had a full church for the carol service. Including the neighbourhood lunch over 90 people enjoyed Ann's Christmas lunches and mince pies, we are so lucky to have her. We had another full church at the midnight service on Christmas Eve with the choir, mince pies and mulled wine. Many thanks to Jon Adams for the lovely Christmas tree in the church.

Rochford village hall

We have a grant from the MHDC Legacy Grant Scheme to improve the insulation and décor of the village hall and to refurbish the kitchen. Work is scheduled to start in mid-February so the hall will be out of use for around a month. Any help would be appreciated to carry out some of the preparatory work. Please look out for information on the WhatsApp group and help if you can.

Photo competition

When the refurbishment is complete, I thought it would be good to have some pictures of Rochford on the walls. So get your camera out and get snapping! The best pictures will be chosen to decorate the hall.

Neighbourhood lunches

There will be no neighbourhood lunches in February or March as work is carried out on the hall. If all goes to plan, we hope to restart lunches on 28th April.

The Pancake Evening on 17th February has been rescheduled to celebrate the reopening of the hall when the work is complete.

Snowdrop Songs of Praise

To celebrate these harbingers of spring, come and sing your favourite hymns at Rochford church on Sunday 8th February at 3 o'clock.

Lambing Café Church

Come along to Parsonage Farm, Rochford on Sunday 8th March at 3pm to join in with lambing based activities. Please note that pregnant women should not attend.

Happy birthday to Dan

Dan Taylor celebrates his 90th birthday in February and we would like to wish him many congratulations and a very happy birthday.

Dan now lives in Tenbury, but Rochford has been a big part of his life and he has done so much for this village over many years. He was on the PCC and a churchwarden and ran the tombola at the fête for many years. He quietly did jobs that just need doing at the church and helped to decorate it for festivals. Dan even sheared the ram whose wool was woven into the curtain across the church door to keep the draft out. He still attends Rochford church whenever he can.

Dan was born in Walsall and his family moved to a little sweet shop (long since demolished) in Teme Street in 1945. He left school at 15, jumped on his bike and cycled to the other side of Ludlow where there was a farm job. They didn't give him the time of day so he cycled back. On his return he found that Fred Yapp had called to offer him a job at Church House farm so he jumped straight back on his bike and cycled to Rochford to see him and started work at 7 o'clock the next morning. Fred and Freda welcomed him onto the farm with a cup of tea and the biggest slice of cake he'd ever seen! They treated him like part of the family and he had many happy years there until Fred and Freda retired. It was Fred who gave him his first hive of bees which started his lifelong love of beekeeping.

He married Ruby Lanman in 1958 and they moved into Redhill (now Mole End) and later to Hope Cottage in Church Lane.

Happy birthday Dan, we do appreciate everything you have done and continue to contribute to life in Rochford and your stories of your life have been enjoyed by many.

News from Stoke Bliss & Kyre

Christmas in Stoke Bliss and Kyre

Our special Christmas services, the annual carol service and the Christmas day family service, proved popular and it was great to welcome new faces as well as our regulars. Our thanks to the Relishing Rural Choir for singing at our carol service and for their popular Christmas medley sung before the mulled wine came out! The choir also joined us for the darkness-into-light service at Kyre church, which was completely filled with their voices. Rev'd Jen Jones delighted us on Christmas morning with a retelling of the Christmas story via the medium of chocolate, which was especially popular for those with a sweet tooth!

We hope to host another wildlife event in St Peter's churchyard in late spring following our popular bat watch last autumn. We will be investigating the wonderful world of moths and other nocturnal insects. The Stoke Bliss & Kyre plant and produce sale will be on Saturday 25th April and as always, we will be looking for donations of plants, so keen gardeners please put the date in your diaries! Lastly, we are pleased to see the Stoke Bliss & Kyre Open Gardens returning this summer in June.

Church roof restoration update

We are currently applying for permission from church authorities, known as a faculty, for the repairs. This is similar to a planning application and requires similar levels of information and documentation. No contracts can be placed before permission is granted.

Churchyard tidy sessions

Our working parties are suspended for the winter but will resume in late March with some planned pruning and tree works before the grass starts growing vigorously. The provisional date is Saturday 21st March from 10am to 12 noon. All welcome.

Keeping you informed

Village Hall Committee

As well as our regular Friday social nights, there will be the ever-popular plant and produce sale on Saturday 25th April, a train day, a spring walk, Open Gardens on Saturday 20th June and a summer barbecue to look forward to. It will even be a case of “eyes down” later in the year for another fun evening of bingo. Our March social night will also be a quiz night – look out for further details on how to enter.

Whether you are a long-term resident or new to the village, come along and see old friends and neighbours or make new friends and get to know your neighbours.

Christmas Eve crib service

Thanks to everyone involved in the crib service on Christmas Eve. Over 60 adults and children attended with events choreographed by Mel Williams, who had been to after school club at Lindridge school during November to prepare angel wings, fleecy sheep and other props. The singing was led briskly by Michael Webb at the organ – thanks to the Webb family from Stockton-on-Teme for joining in.

We invested in a large banner displayed on the A443 at Eastham Bridge – thanks to Ricki of EPS Ltd of Craven Arms for the amazing turnaround of the banner on the Friday afternoon before Christmas.

The service was followed by mulled wine, mince pies and chocolates and £175 was collected for Acorns. It was a fitting start to Eastham's Christmas festivities.

Church flowers

Many thanks to Sarah Burgoyne and Helen Nicol who decorated the church for Christmas, helped by Alexandra Winnington. Thanks to Sue Softly for January's flowers.

Thanks to Mary Holloway for playing the organ so well at most of our church services. It is much appreciated.

Christmas Tree Festival

The church was sparkling this year with 23 larger trees entering the competition. The public vote for the best tree was won by the Rochford Christmas tree with beautifully made paper decorations (pictured right). The children's vote was awarded to Abberley Pre-School Nursery whose tree featured sparkly decorations made from a variety of materials and pipe cleaner candy canes. Well done to both groups. There were lovely hand-made decorations and some beautifully themed trees which all added to the splendid display. Thank you to all who entered trees and supported the Festival this year. We raised a total of £1,200, split between the church and our chosen charity, Maggs in Worcester. Nearly all of the sum for Maggs was match-funded so we were very pleased with the result

We are grateful to John Curtis who organised and co-ordinated the event with the inimitable Sue Softly, who also took charge of the catering. Thanks to Andy, Clem and the construction crew, to JW Lane for lights and fittings, to everyone who made mince pies and huge thanks to Louise Mawditt at Angel Gardens for the beautiful Christmas trees.

Carol service at St Mary's

On Christmas Eve we had a splendid carol service with 54 adults and six children attending. It was lovely to see some previous members at St Mary's and we welcomed the Atherton family and Pat Hunstone, whose late husband was the ACC chairman. Emily Atherton did the first reading and everything went according to plan after that. Thanks to Pete Thorpe for making it all run smoothly and to Helen and Andy Nicol for serving the mulled wine and delicious mince pies made by Catherine and Ann.

Daffodil Day

Daffodil Day will be on Saturday 21st March from 2.30 to 5pm at Stanford village hall.

Artist Mel Williams and lay minister and creative artist Jill Smith will lead an afternoon of arts activities including painting, making paper daffodils and glass painting. Adults and children are welcome. There will be tea, scones and cakes.

Please message or call Alexandra on 07891 346783 for more information. Full details next month.

Tenbury Food Bank

The box will be in the church for the service on 1st February. Please donate any non-combustible items and we will take them to the food bank.

The Filling Station

Our next meeting will be on Thursday 19th February at Eastham Memorial Hall at 7.15 for a 7.30pm start. Our speaker for this evening will be David Harper from Top Barn. Top Barn Farm has been farmed by the Harper family for many years and in 2007 they formed Top Barn Trust. Around 40 acres of the land has been dedicated to community enterprise programmes which have assisted people of all ages and abilities, encouraging learning and personal growth through practical skills, farming and nature-based activities. The ministry at Top Barn Trust runs alongside the community enterprise programmes and helps people to discover more about God's love and to draw people into becoming disciples of Christ.

We look forward to your joining us for these evenings of fellowship, worship, teaching and refreshments. If you are not on our mailing list and would like further information please contact me on kate.harley6@gmail.com.

Sabbatical update

In the Dear Readers section I reflected on gift and generosity, and I am deeply grateful for the gift of three months' sabbatical in the autumn of last year. It was lovely to come back and see how well things have worked during this season.

Many of you have asked me, "how was your sabbatical?" and I can truthfully say it was all I hoped for and more. Through the weeks I enjoyed being back in Norfolk seeing friends and family, and it was especially good to spend a bit more time with my Mum who is now in a nursing home. John and I enjoyed a trip on retreat to Devon and spent a number of happy hours rediscovering our garden, with some serious pruning and decluttering happening.

During sabbatical I was able to complete some useful fieldwork for my doctoral studies and to present a work in progress session at the University of Birmingham. My studies continue part-time for the next 18 months as I begin to crystalise my ideas and write my thesis.

One of the highlights was a trip with two of my friends to Assisi in Italy, but more about that in another magazine issue!

Stepping away for a while often helps in gaining perspective and balance. So I returned in December with fresh energy and a better understanding of rhythms of rest and healthy patterns of ministry.

Safe to say I missed familiar faces, but not my emails, and am pleased to be back, with no major revelations about God calling me over the border to Wales or the Highlands of Scotland. I'm looking forward to 2026 and working together with gratitude and joy at all we are blessed with here in our part of Worcestershire.

Rev'd Julia

News from Hollow Meadow

Another year has flown by and 2026 is well on its journey. Thanks to everyone who has taken an interest in Hollow Meadow and supported it in many ways.

The footpath from the lane above the Retreat that leads down to cross the stream and up to join the other path, from the corner of Broadmeadow drive over to Bannalls Lane, has been restored to comply with the definitive map. When the footpath officer from Worcestershire County Council called, he pointed out that the path was actually in the wrong position! So we took the opportunity whilst doing other work to realign it. The bridge over the stream will be realigned by WCC later.

The final touches to the shelter and shed with the ecoloo will shortly be completed, so we can offer short courses at the meadow in nature crafts and wellbeing. These will be for small groups and run by experienced course leaders. There will be one a month from April to September. For more information go to Hollowmeadow23@gmail.com.

Contact us if you want to have a guided tour. You are welcome to use the public footpaths but please keep to them and keep dogs on leads because of the sheep. As the meadow is managed primarily for biodiversity and wildlife, we try to keep disturbance to a minimum.

Maggie Kingston

What's Lent about?

Lent may originally have followed Epiphany, just as Jesus' sojourn in the wilderness followed immediately on from his baptism, but it soon became firmly attached to Easter. It became the principal occasion for baptism and for the reconciliation of those who had been excluded from the Church's fellowship for whatever reason. This history explains the characteristic notes of Lent – self-examination, penitence, self-denial, study and preparation for Easter.

Muddy Boots Mission Area Lent Reflections

As usual there will be Lent reflections across the Muddy Boots Mission Area (Wyre Forest West, Four Rivers and Teme Valley). We'll be following part of the Pilgrim Course of the Church of England and we will be looking at the Lord's Prayer. The sessions are as follows:

Week 1 – Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name

Week 2 – Your kingdom come, your will be done on earth as in heaven

Week 3 – Give us today our daily bread

Week 4 – Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us

Week 5 – Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil

Locations and times

Great Witley – there will be face to face sessions for the Four Rivers Group at 2.30 to 4pm on Wednesdays at the Rectory (that's David's house), 1 Chiltern Close, Great Witley: 25th February, 4th, 11th, 18th and 25th March.

Online – via Zoom on the Wednesdays in Lent at 7 to 8.30pm. Contact Sallie for more details.

Around the Teme Valley – these will be held on Fridays in Lent from 10.30am to 12 noon in various people's homes, and on Tuesdays at 2pm at The Hatt, Lower Sapey. Contact Julia or Jen for details.

Regal Folk Festival returns to Tenbury Wells in March

The Regal is delighted to announce the return of the Regal Folk Festival, running from Friday 6th March to Thursday 19th March. Across four headline evenings the festival will showcase some of the most compelling voices in contemporary and traditional folk, in the intimate surroundings of Tenbury's much-loved community theatre.

Scottish singer-songwriter and author James Yorkston opens the festival on Friday 6th March. A cornerstone of the Domino Records roster for over two decades, his work is known for its lyrical depth, warmth and quietly powerful storytelling.

On Thursday 12th March Maddie Morris, winner of the BBC Radio 2 Young Folk Award, brings a set of socially conscious, story-driven songs that explore themes including identity, equality and lived experience, marking them out as one of the leading new voices in British folk.

Rising North Yorkshire songwriter George Boomsma (pictured right) takes to the stage on Friday 13th March. With a pure, resonant vocal style and intricate guitar work, he has appeared at major festivals including Cambridge Folk Festival and Port Fairy Folk Festival, earning a reputation for intimate live performances.

The festival closes on Thursday 19th March with Dublin-born traditional singer and bouzouki player Daoiri Farrell. Twice recognised at the BBC Folk Awards and widely praised as one of the most important Irish folk singers of recent years, his performances combine remarkable vocal power with deep roots in the Irish singing tradition.

"We are thrilled to bring the Regal Folk Festival back for 2026 with such an outstanding line-up," said Kim Grenfell, Theatre Director at the Regal. "James Yorkston, Maddie Morris, George Boomsma and Daoiri Farrell each bring something very special, and we cannot wait to welcome audiences for four unforgettable nights of folk music in Tenbury."

Tickets are available from:

David Spilsbury

A wonderful friend, relative and neighbour

On 16th December Eastham church saw its largest congregation for many years when the community gathered to give thanks for the long and well lived life of David Spilsbury, aged 94. Despite not having known David until his later years, Rev'd Julia Curtis delivered a very meaningful service which included references to his long service as church warden and his reading of the lesson in church in 2019. Daughter Jane presented a very interesting, informative and carefully prepared eulogy, son John's daughter Hanna read her own poem and there were readings by other family members.

David was born at Eastham Park in 1931, the fifth of six children. A bright boy, he passed the exam for Kidderminster Grammar School and enjoyed time there including cricket and cross country running, but farming was already becoming his priority – by the time he was 13 or 14 his father told a neighbour “young David could be running the place on his own”.

Joyce and David married in 1953 and together they made a huge contribution to just about everything in and around Eastham for the next 67 years. A lifelong farmer and countryman, David ran Eastham Park all his working life except for a couple of enjoyable and informative years that the family spent in Australia while John and Jane were very young. He was a successful farmer, good with both livestock and crops and was particularly interested in fruit growing. In semi-retirement at Oakhill he put much effort and expertise into conservation – the results are there to see!

David served on numerous committees; he became a member of Eastham parish council at the age of 21! Other roles included the parochial church council (of which he remained a member until his death), the village hall committee, the Eastham Working Men's Club, Tenbury Hospital League of Friends, Eastham Welfare Trust, and the wildlife committee.

As a Tenbury Young Farmer, aged 20, David won the Three Counties Show young shearers competition for Worcestershire. He had a long association with Tenbury Agricultural Society; winning champion lamb at Tenbury Show was always a proud moment. He served on the livestock committee and in 2000 was honoured with the Society's gold medal. In 2010 he was very touched to be made the first male honorary life member in recognition of all he had done.

In the 1970s when Eastham church roof needed renovation and funds were insufficient David suggested it be done by the parishioners – that's exactly what happened, to good effect. In advance of the millenium, he sought pledges to support the production of the book Eastham Within Living Memory; the book was a great success. The pledges were never called on, but without them the book would not have got off the ground.

David was always interested in history, he was a member of Tenbury, Stanford and Eastham history societies and when his mobility deteriorated he concentrated on that interest and kept his mind active and alert. He provided help and information for the recent book Time over Time.

Following the service the family hosted an excellent reception at The Barn at Dinthill.

A wonderful friend, relative and neighbour to many, David will be remembered with respect and affection.

Teme Valley Wildlife

Numerous small woods bear the name copse or coppice, reflecting their former role in the manufacture of traditional products such as fence posts, hedge stakes, hop poles, sheep hurdles and gates from a renewable wood resource. The practice of coppicing, cutting down a tree and then harvesting its straight regrowth, began in the Neolithic period but came to a halt after the Second World War. The oldest evidence for the use of coppice products in England comes from the 4,000 BC site of the "sweet track", a causeway in the Somerset Levels whose watery domain has preserved its lining of coppiced brushwood to the delight of archaeologists many millennia later.

There are lots of coppices along the Teme valley, many of them of ash, not a surprise given the thousands of hop poles which were once required. A quick look at the map brings up Mill Coppice, Bine Coppice, Brickbarns Coppice, Rock Coppice and Slashes Coppice to the south of the river and Rough Coppice, Hackenchop Coppice, Howney Coppice, Ash Coppice and Pudford Coppice to the north. Their names represent their owners, the type of tree they contained or, in the wonderfully named Hackenchop Coppice, the sort of work that went on in them.

Woods were typically divided into different areas

or "coupes" which were cut in rotation so that usable wood was available every year. For different woods and different uses the trees were cut down in cycles varying from five to 20 years. There was always wood to cut and always some just beginning to grow. The great secret of broad-leaved woodland is that it is endlessly renewable. Coppicing extends the lives of these trees, unlike conifers which cannot recover after felling.

Woodland managed by traditional coppicing is alive with wildlife. The cutting of a coupe lets light onto the woodland floor which is followed by a profusion of primroses, violets, foxgloves and wood anemones and bluebells. Fast-growing tree shoots rapidly turn into leafy bushes and bramble makes thickets which provide cover and nest sites for birds and small mammals. Butterflies thrive. Of birds, warblers in particular are attracted to this habitat and make the most of new food and nesting opportunities. As the trees get bigger and light begins to diminish, bees and insects feed on tree nectar and shadier conditions hide larger mammals and provide roosts for larger birds. Rarer plants such as herb Paris and broad-leaved helleborine prefer a denser tree canopy so they wait until conditions are just right before putting up their shoots.

Woods which offer subtle gradations in light and in tree maturity host the greatest variety of plants and animals. Coppicing creates these conditions whilst also producing usable wood, a fact known to our ancestors, but sadly we no longer rely on wood for brushes, brooms, pea sticks, spade handles, basketry, clogs, wattle and daub, firewood, kindling or charcoal. If woodland is managed in the traditional way, wildlife gets a huge boost – so bean sticks, anyone?

The next meeting of the Teme Valley Wildlife Group will be at 7.30pm on Thursday 12th February at Stoke Bliss and Kyre Village Hall. We welcome Andrew Fusek Peters whose talk is called "Garden Safari". He is a very popular return speaker and we can expect some stunning photography. Members and friends are welcome, it is just £3 on the door.

Road closed?

Jessica Middleton writes from her home in Wales about a problem that affects us here in the Teme Valley too ...

It starts with a yellow sign showing the dates that the work will start and finish but the writing is so small that I doubt anyone stops to read it.

This is followed later by a red ROAD CLOSED sign partly blocking the road. You can navigate around this and continue your journey until you arrive at a sign in the opposite direction saying ROAD CLOSED, proving that it isn't.

Problems arise when there is a man in a hi-vis jacket stationed next to the sign or sitting in a white van eating a sandwich. So you follow diversions which could lead you anywhere and usually disappear, leaving you stranded. The signs never tell you how far ahead the road is closed or even if it will be open overnight.

I had the misfortune to find a ROAD CLOSED sign and decided to be obedient and follow the diversion. Having travelled 15 miles in the wrong direction with no further signs, I resorted to sat-nav. Initially the road was fine but the next turn was a narrow lane, so I stopped and asked a friendly farmer if it would take me to my destination. He said "yes, you go up the mountain and down the other side and you STAY ON THE LANE, until at the end by the pub you turn left". Every farm entrance had a better surface than the lane. I went up the mountain avoiding wide deep ditches and ice on either side and then down the other side where the road became a river.

At last I turned left at the pub and there was a sign saying ROAD CLOSED. I was four miles further down the road I had been on. 100 metres past the first sign I passed a ROAD CLOSED sign in the opposite direction. There was nothing being done, no machinery, no workmen. I had followed a diversion of approximately 20 miles for nothing, other than to make me late.

Why don't the people erecting the signs communicate with the people doing the work? In the week before Christmas our lane sprang a ROAD CLOSED sign so we had no bin collection and no deliveries. No workmen appeared, no work was done and eventually someone removed the signs and a few days later a council lorry arrived to collect them all except for the one that was flat on the grass. Presumably a strimmer will find it in the summer.
